

RISE OVER RUN

an online mag for wku & bgky

rise to the occasion.

Rise Over Run is a new online magazine serving Western Kentucky University and the Bowling Green community. It's a fun and fresh alternative to other media outlets on campus. We publish feature stories, reviews, commentaries, and literary and art pieces. We also aim to capture the "Scene" in Bowling Green in what other magazines might call "entertainment" and "style" sections. We have just three rules: It's gotta be local. It's gotta be good. And it's gotta be different.

A large portion of our published work comes from one-time submissions. We also have a pool of freelance writers—meaning that we can call them up every once in a while and ask (politely) for them to do some work for us. They usually screen our calls. And then there's the staff. This consists of people who want to contribute every issue and who won't screen our calls. The editors make up the editorial board and we only write when we have time, which is never.

Now, let's give this a shot.

SHORT ANSWER

Where do you hang out during the week? What do you do on the weekends?

What experience do you have in your field? What classes have you taken so far?

Do you have any great connections? Are you that great connection?

SAMPLES

We want to see your best work. Find a couple examples (published or not) and give them AND this application to Mac McKerral, MMTH 222.
